

As an electronics industry member for over 35 years, and a contributing and active Radio Amateur, as well as an FCC commercial licensee, I see BPL as a danger that could erode the base of radio technicians in the Amateur Service.

Moreover, if BPL is actualized, it will be seen as yet another inroad made by "well heeled" industry special interests, to the detriment of the public at large. That's unfair, to say the least. It's clearly un-American!

Let's put an end to this type of shortsightedness---now.
